

2016 COMMUNITY REPORT

AND THE PURSUIT OF A BETTER US

---

YMCA OF CENTRAL FLORIDA

It's not about achieving PERFECTION

It's about believing that we all possess a deep well of hidden potential. The potential to be stronger. To be smarter. To be happier. The potential to do more. To dream more. To LIVE more. To care more about how the people around us are doing and dreaming and living. Better isn't something we wish for. Better is something we work for. Better doesn't come knocking. Better compels us to get up, go forth and give it all we've got. And better doesn't belong to anyone. It belongs to us all. The Y makes sure of it by empowering every man, woman and child in Central Florida to pursue what better means to them.

The pursuit of a better us. It starts at the Y.

DEAR FRIENDS

Within each and every one of us lies untapped potential. At the Y, our job is to help our community reach it. To empower men, women and children across Central Florida to live more, dream bigger, grow stronger, to get more from their lives...and give more to one another. This is the pursuit of a better us. And it starts with every single one of you. In 2016, we came together in so many ways to help our community thrive. Thanks to your dedication, we empowered people across Central Florida to pursue what "better" means to them. Better health. Happier family. Brighter future. In the next few pages, we highlight a few of those people and their pursuits. As you read their stories, remember that your support helps make it all possible.

Thank you!

DANIEL WILCOX

Collin Outerbridge had just moved into a new home when he spotted a young boy playing basketball alone across the street.

As someone with a heart for ministry and a desire to invest in his neighborhood, Collin felt it only natural to go shoot hoops with the young man, whose name is Jonah. A few ball games and mentoring sessions later, the boy's godfather, the pastor of Vista Church in Orlando, invited Collin to join their team.

Several years later, when Vista Church was looking to launch a Lake Nona campus, Collin saw another opportunity to offer ministry where people might not expect it. After a few conversations with community leaders, Collin held his first Sunday service at the Lake Nona YMCA.

Today, more than 400 people come to the Lake Nona Y for Sunday services with Pastor Collin. The church also offers bible study, which are taught by none other than Jonah. He's 21 now, and understands how important it is for kids to have strong spiritual role models. After all, he learned that lesson in his own driveway from a man who believes that "Church isn't about where you go. It's caring about wherever you are."

AND THE PURSUIT OF A MINISTRY

THAT COMES TO THE COMMUNITY

AND THE
PURSUIT OF
MORE YEARS
AND MORE YES

Being a strong open-water swimmer is a prerequisite for competing in a triathlon.

But that didn't stop Marisabel Wolfinger from taking the plunge when a friend mentioned the Divas Tri Club at the Downtown YMCA. She couldn't swim like a triathlete. Her bike wasn't great. Her running technique needed help. Still, she said "yes." Because if beating breast cancer at 37 taught Marisabel anything, it was that life's too short for regrets.

That attitude compelled Marisabel to quit the job that she'd held for 15 years since it no longer fulfilled her. It motivated her to train hard enough with the Divas Tri Club that she finished her first triathlon eight months after joining. It drove her across the finish line of her first Ironman, which she completed with her husband at her side. And when one of her connections came to her with an opportunity to start her own business, that "no regrets" philosophy inspired the only answer she could imagine. Yes. Yes to the business. Yes to fulfilling a lifelong goal. Yes to living life on her own terms.

"If I have an opportunity, I never assume it might come again. If you want to do something, do it. Otherwise, you'll never know about all the amazing things you're missing."

AND THE PURSUIT OF A LIFE BEYOND LIMITATIONS

Mealtime had always been tough for 8-year-old Christian.

The smell and texture of many foods sickened him, a common challenge for autistic children. Over the years, the limitations resulted in a diet filled with fast food items and unhealthy snacks. When a doctor said Christian was borderline diabetic, his mom, Veronica, knew it was time for a change.

Together, they enrolled in Healthy Weight and Your Child, a program at the Dr. P. Phillips YMCA. In the weeks that followed, they learned how to read nutrition labels and incorporate fruits and vegetables into each meal. Christian realized that "exercise" was simply a fun time when you play with people you like. Now that he's 10 pounds lighter, he even throws a flag on some meals and says, "We shouldn't be eating this, Mom, let's make another choice."

As a mother, Veronica is grateful not only that Christian is healthier, but also that she and her son connect on a different level. It feels good when he chooses "mom time" over video games – and that he would rather play tennis than hang out inside.

But the biggest revelation for her is that Christian doesn't have to be limited by his condition. "As long as we keep pushing down this road, I know the sky's the limit for him."

Kids need consistency.

As a mom, Denise understood how her family's routines gave her children a sense of security. So when she and her husband separated and moved toward divorce, the loss of structure is what scared her the most. With money getting tight, there wasn't any room in Denise's budget for the family's YMCA membership – even more disruption for kids who already had more than their fair share.

A scholarship from the Dr. P. Phillips Y was the answer to Denise's prayers. Despite everything else going on around them, her son and daughter never missed a beat with their basketball and soccer teams. Denise's daughter, who was recovering from back surgery, continued to rely on the Family Center gym for rehabilitation.

Denise received a different type of rehab in the form of the Dave Ramsey Financial Peace classes offered by the YMCA. She learned how to budget, save and live a comfortable life with her current income. And as Denise met other people going through the same thing, she found a new type of happiness.

"In these hard moments in your life, you need people who want to help you and embrace your situation. That doesn't happen very often," she said. "But I found it – and that's what made me so happy."

AND THE
PURSUIT OF OLD ROUTINES

AND A NEW ROAD

AND THE PURSUIT OF BUILDING BRIDGES

For most young boys, learning how to tie a necktie isn't high on their list of things to do over the summer.

Or ever. But Tom Sommersdorf has plenty of solid reasons why they should. So he showed up at the South Orlando YMCA with a pile of thrift-store rejects and taught about 20 boys how to tie a Windsor and a four-in-hand as part of the Y's 3Fly mentoring program. Now they'll be good to go for that high-stakes Q&A with a college scholarship committee, or even down the line when they land that dream job interview.

After retiring from the Orlando Police Department with more than 20 years on patrol in the city's roughest neighborhoods, Tom knows what teens in the Oak Ridge area are up against. He suspects things at home might not be great for a lot of them – but he doesn't ask. Instead, he shares stories about how he overcame his own challenges and leads conversations that range from diversity and inclusion to proper phone etiquette. And although some of the boys didn't know what to make of their mentor at first, they warmed up when they realized Tom was going to keep showing up for them, week after week.

"Every time I walk in the Y down there, it's no longer, 'Who's that guy coming in here?' It's more like, 'Oh, there's Mr. Tom!' And I get a lot of joy out of that."

JOHN STERCHI AWARD

Named for John Sterchi, the driving force behind the Downtown Y, this award honors those who provide an outstanding lifetime of support to the YMCA of Central Florida.

Frank DeLuca

Frank DeLuca was proud to chair the 2012-2013 Capital Campaign and raised over $4 million to renovate the Marion County YMCA. With Frank's gift of $1 million, the Y was renamed the Frank DeLuca YMCA and was on track for renovations to serve nearly 35,000 adults and children. This expansion was essential to the Y's commitment to nurture the potential of kids, promoting healthy living and fostering a sense of social responsibility. Frank continues to be a major contributor of the Frank DeLuca YMCA. His contributions help hundreds of kids in the community who are in need of support and who would otherwise not be able to participate in YMCA programs. His leadership and commitment in helping move people and communities forward is inspiring.

Greg Lewis

Greg Lewis is a true advocate of the YMCA of Central Florida. Greg served on the Golden Triangle Y Board since 1994 as Treasurer, Vice Chair and Chairman for two years and is still serving today as Capital Planning Chair. Greg reported on finances for 12 years at the Golden Triangle Y in addition to serving on the Metro Finance Committee. Greg and his children were involved with the Indian Guides Program, which had a huge impact in that area, and participated in small training groups for many years. You can still find Greg working out at the Golden Triangle Y every day!

PepsiCo

When it comes to giving children the brightest possible future, few organizations have been more generous than PepsiCo. PepsiCo has supported a wide range of charitable projects and organizations, including numerous YMCA youth initiatives that keep kids safe, instill values and support learning. For over 20 years and with $1 million in financial investment, Pepsico has supported the YMCA Teen Achievers program, outreach Ys, healthy living and the YMCA Aquatic Center.

BARBARA ROPER ADVOCACY AWARD

Named for the trailblazing Y advocate and philanthropist who committed decades of time, talent and treasure to our cause, this award honors those whose leadership keeps our organization moving forward.

Julie Kleffel

A true Y advocate in every sense of the word, Julie Kleffel uses her considerable skills and influence to draw others to the Y cause. Julie is a valued member of the YMCA Metro Board and Finance Committee and has been actively involved in our Ys for over 10 years. She was an Executive Board Member for the Dr. P. Phillips YMCA and also served as Board Chair for the Roper YMCA. Julie is an active advocate for children with special needs, including her own. Julie is a member of the Down Syndrome Association of Central Florida and the Down Syndrome Foundation. She has also been a guest columnist, speaker and author of several articles regarding the scholarship benefits for special needs children throughout the state of Florida.

Kelly Prather

As an Orlando native and professional within the Y movement, Kelly Prather has been dedicated to the health and well-being of the Central Florida community for over 15 years. Kelly graduated a Florida Gator from University of Florida with a degree in Health Science Education. Upon graduation Kelly began her Y career at the Gainesville YMCA. After 4 years in Gainesville she came home to her roots in Orlando and continued her career with the Central Florida Y. During her time here Kelly has worked at the Blanchard, J. Douglas Williams, Avalon and Downtown Ys where her great leadership and vision landed her the role of Executive Director of Health Strategies. In this role she launched the Y-USA national initiative Diabetes Prevention Program here in Central Florida. Kelly has also led national and local healthy living initiatives for Central Florida and with the YMCA of the USA. While still continuing her work in the focus area of healthy living Kelly has recently been promoted to Executive Director of Member Experience to ensure our members have the opportunity to learn, grow and thrive.
